

Priest's wives and their sense of isolation

- I am always stuck in the middle of any disagreement between my priest husband and church members
- I feel that many immature women in the community are jealous of my life, which seems so ideal to them.
- I have trouble sharing my worries with my friends because we are not supposed to have any. Still my interaction with my priest husband is a great help to me.

Source : answers the questionnaire sent by Rita El-Hajj to 20 Priest's wives, 2015.